Q1 2022 highlights

- The beginning of the quarter had continued impact by the pandemic, but sales started picking up by end of quarter, rendering a 9 % organic growth.
- Finalizing acquisition of Acapela Group, outstanding conditions completed, and closing will be April 29th
- Launch of the new communication aid "TD I-110" empowering people with conditions such as autism, cerebral palsy and aphasia
- On April 1, announced acquisition of our Irish reseller partner Safe Care Technologies

Launch of TD-I-110

- Some 40% of people with Autism are non-verbal* and would benefit from a communication aid
- The TD I-110 combined with the communication software TD Snap is a medically certified, touch-based communication aid that fits the needs of individuals with speech impairments from conditions such as autism, cerebral palsy and aphasia
- The product accompanies the user wherever they are; hence the ultra-rugged and water-resistant design combined with strong performance for all day use in school, outdoors or at home.
- Touch-based communication aids are the products that Tobii Dynavox sells in highest volumes.
